Venture Capital

1. What are the things I need to know in order to build a good deal flow?

Research to identify leading industries that use blockchain technology in their supply chain management, including smart contracts and start-up companies.

2. Who should I speak to for advice or support and how can I reach out to them?

Research online to find out leading blockchain solution agencies or developers via LinkedIn or Google and contact them to get advice and support.

3. What is the quickest version of this idea I can create this week?

Make a list of key players that have been blockchain to manage their supply chain and get in touch with them via email or LinkedIn to show my interest.

Attend relevant seminars or conferences to learn more about the trends and opportunities. Build a network of people who are knowledgeable in the blockchain technology.

Regularly review my research and my networking efforts to adjust my strategies and identify new opportunities and trends in the industry.

Develop a complete and appealing pitch to present to potential investors.
